BODYWORKS MASSAGE INSTITUTE

Hippocrates, the father of modern medicine, advised that “an aromatic bath and fragrant massage should be received daily for the maintenance of health.” Decadent as it sounds, this statement was based on his research into the benefits of regular massage.

Because of our need to understand the scientific aspects of massage, the University of Miami School of Medicine Touch Research Institute has been conducting studies on the beneficial effects of therapeutic massage since 1992. Molecular changes that occur in the body when skilled, soft tissue manipulations are applied support the body's healing process and have been considered by many, beginning with Hippocrates, as “medicinal.”

Our Professional Massage Therapy programs are unsurpassed in the quality of training our students receive. Students graduating from this program are in high demand in businesses within our community. In addition to our 500 and 700-Hour programs, we offer weekend Educational Workshops and Continuing Education for anyone wishing to increase their knowledge in bodyworks modalities.

We provide specialized training and treatment in Oncology Massage, Geriatric Massage, Thai Massage, Oriental Medicine, Craniosacral Therapy and Sports Massage to meet the needs of our medical community.

Bodyworks is accredited through the Indiana Commission on Proprietary Education and we are members of the American Massage Therapy Association and Associated Bodywork and Massage Professionals.
